Sometimes it is difficult to discuss some of the above topics but it is essential if you are going to have a successful relationship. Couples often make the mistake of getting married or moving in together before discussing these crucial topics. Any one of the abovementioned topics can seriously harm a great relationship if the couple constant argue about it.

Couple's coaching is a facilitated (by Elsabé Manning) honest and open discussion and planning of your future together. Elsabé will help you to negotiate your relationship in an atmosphere of trust, love and understanding.
